HOW THE BRAND HAS BOOSTED REAL BUSINESS

“ We have found being part of 1066 Country Marketing a really good support for our efforts to be associated with promoting the destination, which they do a great job at. They understand lifestyle marketing and position the area and suppliers like us in that process.

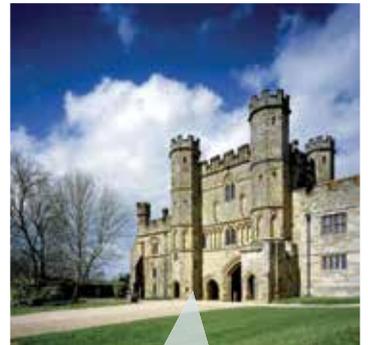

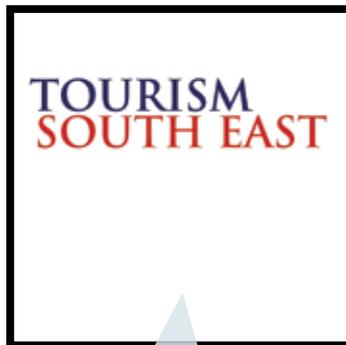

Alex Clarke, Director, The George in Rye

“ When we opened Swan House in 2006, 1066 Country Marketing helped us from the start, offering invaluable words of support and encouragement. We would not have received the extensive press coverage and hospitality accolades, if it were not for the support and advice from a superb tourism marketing team. Their knowledge and professionalism are well worth the members' subscription and more!

Brendan McDonagh and Lionel Copley, Swan House, Hastings

“ Tourism South East values the partnership with 1066 Country, especially in supporting European trade and media activity. Working together means that we can host more journalists and TV crews and reach far more countries. 1066 Country is able to provide the local knowledge and expertise which is invaluable to Tourism South East's team when working on marketing campaigns or projects.

“ English Heritage has been a very satisfied member of 1066 Country Marketing for many years. Without doubt the benefits of working together with like-minded, enthusiastic individuals and businesses all focussed on promoting the best in tourism for the area has given English Heritage, and particularly Battle Abbey, a higher profile and greater marketing reach than it could have achieved by itself.
